Average				15.35%

In the TDV Trade Alert published on December 26, I recommended 5 stocks as short-term buys. These stocks had fallen hard due to tax loss selling and were due for a rebound once the 30-day restriction had lifted. All five stocks have since re-bounded and it is time to exit. We record an average gain of 15.35% on this trade.

Generally, the investments in this blog may be more volatile on a daily basis and have higher headline risk than other sectors as they tend to be more sensitive to political and regulatory events. Because of significant volatility, large spreads and very limited market liquidity, typically you will not be able to sell a low priced security immediately at the same price you purchased the stock. In some cases, the stock may fall quickly in value. Investing in foreign markets may entail greater risks than those normally associated with domestic markets, such as political, currency, economic and market risks. You should carefully consider whether trading in low priced and international securities is suitable for you in light of your circumstances and financial resources.
